The above fee information is given on the basis that the transaction does not become uncomplicated or protracted. If additional and/or unexpected works are required to be completed during the course of your transaction, we may have to make additional charges but will inform you before these are incurred.

The key stages in a typical sale and purchase transaction can be found in our Guide to Buying and Selling Your Home. This will provide you with more information on the process and work involved in your matter.

You will be assigned a solicitor who will provide you with their contact details and an email address.

Please note that the likely timescale to completion depends upon a number of factors, some of which are beyond our control, but an average transaction takes 12-16 weeks from our receipt of the contract papers from the seller's solicitors or issue of contract papers to the buyer's solicitors.
